Descendants of John Witheridge

John Witheridge was born about 1780.

Research Notes: Spring 2002 edition - The Witheridge Times - by Joyce Browne

John Witheridge was sent to prison in 1809, for bigamously marrying Jane Emmett. Now with the discovery of two more children of this union, Mary, baptised on April 17, 1803 at Blackawton, and Betsy, baptised on Sep 7, 1803 also at Blackawton - a possible reason why John went through a form of marriage with Jane Emmett becomes apparent.

It is obvious from the date of the marriage, Oct 28, 1802, and the date of Mary's baptism Apr 17, 1803, that Jane must have been three months pregnant at the time of the ceremony. In spite of our investigations, we still do not know how John's misdemeanour came to be found out, or where he went when released from gaol, but we keep our eyes and minds open!

I have found no trace of Mary or Betsy after the registration of their baptisms, they are not in the census for 1851, but of course, they could have married or died in the intervening time. William, born 1804/1805, who married Sarah Brimmacombe, lived to a ripe old age in spite of hardships, and David, born 1909 only lived until he was three years of age.

We now know that the wife of William, baptised 1830, was named Charlotte Toms and not 'Tones', and in addition to this tree are the names of three of the children of Edward Witheridge, born, 1849, and Emma Isabella Cross. They are Emily Louise, born 1872, William Edward, born 1873, and Ellen Elizabeth, born 1875.

John married Jane Emmett on 28 Oct 1802 in Halwell, Devon, England. Jane was born about 1780. They had four children: Mary, Betsy, William, and David.

Mary Witheridge was christened on 17 Apr 1803 in Blackawton, Devon, England.

Betsy Witheridge was christened on 2 Sep 1804 in Blackawton, Devon, England.

William Witheridge was born about 1805 in Dittisham, Devon, England, was christened on 9 Feb 1806 in Dittisham, Devon, England, and died in 1890 in Totnes, Devon, England, about age 85.

Phyllis Mary R. Witheridge was born in 1911 in Bristol, England.

General Notes:I knew my Aunt Phyllis and her second husband, Dolph, very well and visited them frequently up to the point we moved to the States.

Not so frequently after we returned, mainly because Phyllis always kept very boisterous dogs. My uncle kept them in line. However, the two she had after my uncle died were worse than any previous ones and terrified my young children. To my Aunt, these dogs were her children and there was no question that they could be shut away while we were there. On such small things do family relationships rise and fall.

Unfortunately, I have no documents - when she died, she left her estate to an animal shelter and the house was cleared by a stranger. We lost a lot of historical information at that time, including I suspect, the family bible where my grandfather recorded a lot of information.

She was Phyllis Mary Witheridge and the eldest child of my grandparents. Before I was born, she was married to a Leonard Brooks, but he died of tuberculosis not long afterwards. She subsequently married his brother who we all knew as "Dolph", I really liked Uncle Dolph. but I think that his initials were L A Brooks since he gave me a small case with the initials L.A.B. on (however Beryl believes that this was actually his brother's case - Beryl used to spend many hours talking with my grandmother and learn't things that I never knew). I also wonder if "Dolph" was short for "Adolph" which as the time of the second world war was not a name to use in full!

When I was a child, they lived in Bainton Road, Oxford (think it was number 33), but in the late 1950s, moved to the village of Cassington near Oxford (the name of the house was "Silver Birches") and indulged their passion for gardening, especially roses (not something I have inherited!). They remained there until Dolph died (while we were in the States during the late 1970s) and Phyllis died (in the early 1980s).

They never had children. This was somehow linked to the TB scourge of the 1930's in England, but I never really understood the full reason and it was not a subject I ever felt I could raise with them. Even my grandmother never really knew.

Phyllis married Leonard Brooks in 1933 in Oxford, England.

Phyllis next married "Dolph" Brooks.

Joan Witheridge was born on 8 Apr 1914 in Lowley St. John, Oxford, England and died on 7 Feb 1999 in High Wycombe, Oxford, England, at age 84.

Joan married Edwin James Hurst, son of Edwin John Hurst and Sophia (Unknown), on 5 Aug 1935 in St. Giles Church, Oxford, England. Edwin was born on 22 Feb 1908 in St. Ebbe, Oxford, England and died on 8 May 1980 in 2 Ridgemount Close, Oxford, at age 72.

Raymond Arthur Edwin Witheridge was born on 26 Feb 1920 in Headington, Oxford, England.

Research Notes: Daily Telegraph - July 24, 1989

GLIDER INSTRUCTOR AND PUPIL INJURED

A gliding instructor and his pupil were taken to hospital with broken backs yesterday after they crashed on take-off at Old Sarum Airfield, Salisbury, Wilts. The instructor, Mr. Raymond Witheridge, 69 of Runnymede Avenue, Bournemouth and Mrs. Arthur Poulton, 45 of Downton, Salisbury, were practising take-off by mechanical winch when the glider became detached from the winch and a wing touched the runway.

We reported later on Raymond's full recovery and his return to gliding. We believe that Raymond was a bomber pilot during the second world war.

(Taken from The Witheridge Times, Winter edition of 1993)

Raymond married Kathleen May Collett, daughter of Robert Collett and Kate Dewe, on 3 Sep 1939 in Register Office, Oxford, England. Kathleen was born on 23 Dec 1916 in Oxford, England and died on 10 Apr 1998 in Royal Bournemouth Hospital, Bournemouth, at age 81. They had one child: Paul Raymond.

Paul Raymond Witheridge was born on 31 Mar 1942 in 112 Walton Street, Oxford, England and was christened on 5 Jul 1942 in Oxford, England.

Paul married Beryl Margaret Field, daughter of Herbert Edward John Field and Elsie Alice Umney Watts, on 3 Sep 1964 in St. James Church, Bournemouth, England. Beryl was born on 12 Mar 1944 in Bexley Heath, Kent, England and was christened on 31 Mar 1944 in Christ Church, Bexley Heath, Kent. They had two children: Christopher Paul and Andrew John.

Christopher Paul Witheridge was born on 21 Nov 1970 in Hampstead Heath, England.

Andrew John Witheridge was born on 18 Jul 1973 in Dartford, Kent, England.

Donald Witheridge was born in 1926 in Headington, Oxford, England.

General Notes: Ashton is Ashton-Under-Lyne a suburb of Greater Manchester, where the Marston family lived. My uncle Don was born in Oxford, but during the second world war was just about old enough to be involved and joined the army, but only served in the UK (i.e. never saw any active conflict abroad). I think that he met Eileen Marston while stationed near Manchester. I know from comments that the Witheridge family disapproved - not sure of the reasons - maybe age, lack of maturity, maybe religion (Eileen was Catholic, my family Anglican - this used to be a big thing in England as you probably know), maybe even snobbery.

Anyway, Don moved to Manchester. I think the Marstons ran a small grocery shop which Don took over. I spent one Christmas there as a very small boy (went by train from Oxford with my grandmother) somewhere around 1947. They later bought a caravan (i.e. trailer) on a site in Swanage for renting out to holiday makers during the summer. I stayed there with my grandparents a couple of times in off season.

Obviously, this was very successful because they then moved from Ashton-Under-Lyne to Caister in Norfolk (sometime in the early 1950's I think) and started up a holiday business renting out caravans and later building and renting out bungalows. This was also very successful and Don ended up with a "holiday village" of quite a lot of bungalows (see <http://www.blueribandholidays.co.uk/>). Ownership was spread out among Don's children but it all operated as a family business. Today, with Don now aging and the next generation wanting to push new ideas, there seems to be some fracturing of the "family business" (note: this is hearsay and one-sided hearsay at that).

Don and Eileen had three children while they lived in Manchester - Peter, Jean and Kim. I don't think that the next - Anthony - was born until they had moved to Caister. I have difficulty remembering all the names of the children that followed and can never remember the order. I can remember attending a wedding and at the following reception, one of the children (i.e. one of my cousins) was about the same age as my son Christopher and was younger than at least one of his own nephews.

Don (and my father) were very much into railway engines as boys. Don obviously never got over this boyhood enthusiasm because as his business prospered, he was able to build a narrow gauge railway line around his "holiday village" and became great friends with Grace and John Adams (friends of my parents from Poole, Dorset) - John built scale steam locomotives and sold at least one to Don.

Eileen died about two years ago. Much to the disagreement of his children, Don arranged for her to be buried in the garden of his home within the holiday village and has a space reserved for himself next to her.

Donald married Eileen Marston in 1947 in Ashton Under Lyne, Lancashire, England. They had 12 children: Peter, Jean, Angela Kim, Anthony, Donald, Mark, Craig, Tina Lorraine, Donna, Caroline, Andrew, and Maria Jane.
